NO STRINGENCY IN MONEY. PRICES OF STOCKS MOVE UPWARD WITH

SURPRISING STEADINESS.

Sunday, Sept. 20-p. m. The United States Treasurer received last week as follows: from customs $3,690,479, from internal revenue $2,680,745, and from miscellaneous sources $496, No. shares sold, 188,982 1.096,885 2.825,000 497; total from all, $6,867,721, against $5,946,846 in the previous week. The weekly statement shows a decrease of $6,084,925 in the net cash in vaults and a decrease of $144,399 in deposits in National banks. According to the statement, therefore, there was a decrease of $6,229,324 in the net cash in vaults and banks. The volume of legal-tender notes issued in payment for silver bullion was increased by $3,627,071, and by the operations of the Treasury in the week the amount of money in circulation was increased by over $9,500,000. In the past two weeks the circulation has been increased by about $20,000,000. A gratifying feature of the statement is the large gain in gold coin and bullion, which was nearly double the increase in silver bullion. This result-497; total from all, $6,867,721, against $5,946,-

BANK CONDITIONS COMPARED, By the operations of the New-York Sub-Treasury in the week ended Friday night, which included deposits of $4,870,500 for shipment to other places and payments of $1,083,716 for purchased bonds, the associated banks gained $1,647,922. The weekly bank statement published yesterday shewed a loss of $317,400. While the movement of currency to the interior has continued on a large scale, it is probable that it has reached its maximum, and the shipments this week, aside from those through the Treasury, did not greatly excced the receipts. The movement was nearly ounterbalanced by Government disbursements and imports of gold. A further expansion of loans by $3,073,500 was an encouraging evidence of the increasing activity in mercantile business' as well as in speculation. It is to be observed that for

This resulted chiefly from the continued heavy movement of currency to the interior. The principal changes in the vault balances were made up as follows: a gain in the gold balance of $1,253,466 by an accumulation of $2,029,276 coin and bullion, less an issue of $775,810 certificates; a reduction of $4,231,759 by an issue of $5,324,667 certificates, less a gain of $1,092,908 coin and bullion, and a loss in the legal-tender balance of $2,310,393 by a decrease of $3,750,393 notes, less a reduction of $1,440,000 in outstanding certificates. The change in the holdings of National bank notes was a loss of $796,229. The Treasury's liability for the redemption of National bank notes was reduced further by $223,356, and the deposits of lawful money on that account to $36,922,925.
